The British Pullman carriages Cygnus, Perseus, and Minerva were amongst those used to transport passengers to and from the festival grounds in South Bank, where they would be enthralled by events and exhibitions celebrating British culture and achievements in the post-war era.

It is this moment of national jubilation in which we set the scene for our murder mystery. A fresh optimism is sweeping the country but, on board, an unexpected encounter leads to the untimely demise of one fellow passenger.

As the plot unfolds, you'll be served a sumptuous five-course meal made with fine ingredients, accompanied by a selection of wine. You may perhaps take the moment to soak in your surroundings as the train journeys through the beautiful Kent countryside, before returning to your clue sheet and itinerary with a fresh perspective and renewed vigour. Those not so easily persuaded by the enigmatic suspects and compromised cohorts will be crowned best detective, so keep your senses on high alert!

Our scintillating murder mystery combines luxurious comfort, glamour, and a dash of adventure, curated by a world-leading theatrical production company. Additionally, the company delivers the British Pullman's immersive Carriage Club experience, London's first-ever cabaret on rails!
